THE JOUENAL

BELLES LETTRES.

A NEW AND STRIKED GHARJOTER ADDED TO WALDER'S.

THE Proprietor of this work, anxious to gratify his readers to as great an extent as his means will allow, respectfully announces to the public that the very liberal patronage he has received has enabled him to add a new feature to this periodical, which he believes cannot fail to prove interesting and valuable.

THE JOURNAL OF BELLES LETTRES, embracing three to four pages of additional new matter, will be given every week as an accompaniment to the Circulating Library, and will niment to the Circulating Library, and wil contain:

1. Early reprints of the reviews and notices 1. Early reprints of the reviews and notices of new books, from the weekly and monthly periodical press of London, &c. These reviews will be excelled y selected with reference both to imparting correct information respecting auch new books as are reprinted in America, and to convey literary intelligence in regard to works which rarely find their way, across the Atlantic. As great exertions will be used to make the department instructive and entertaining, the proprietor is contident that it will be considered an important addition, by means of which his numerous subscribers will freof which his numerous subscribers will frequently avoid the expense of purchasing such their titles or the reputation of their authors will sell the edition. This part of the Journal will sell the edition. This part of the Journal will embrace a considerable amount of extracts from new books of travels, memoirs, biography, novels, and in fact present a bird's eye view of new publications, early diffused through the Union, by means of the facilities of mail transportation.

The London Literary Gazette will be culled for this purpose, while the "Critical Notices," of the London Metropolitan, the Monthly, New Monthly, the Gentleman's, Blackwood's, l'ait's, Edinburgh, Fraser's, and other Maga zines, already regularly received by the editor

fill be freely used.
2. Varieties, embracing literary anecdotes, and every species of information interesting two numbers will comprise a year, cross to lovers of reading, with occasional specimens of the humourous departments of the London press, which are within the bounds of good taste, and are now published in no other ournal in America.

3 A regular list of the new books published and in progress in London and America

4 Occasional original notices of new Ame rican publications, with extracts embracing

No additional charge will be made for this great increase of reading matter. It will be contained on the pages of the cover of the Library, and therefore subject subscribers who receive their numbers by mail to no additional expense of postage.

A. WALDIE.

Several applications having been made to ascertain the manner in which the original de-partment of notices of new books will be con ducted, we take the present early opportunity of stating that, at least they shall most une quivocally be -UNBOUGHT. The presenta tion of a copy by the publisher shall not be a do not warrant it; so that our readers may be do not warrant its so that our readers may be assured of two things: First—books shall not be noticed the next day after they are received; and, secondly, they shall not be reviewed be fore they have been read. We have no royal road to puffing, and will be the less likely, therefore, to fall into the error of an unlocky wight, who, in his anxiety to be the first 60 blow the hellows of criticism and the grades not bellows of criticism. read the preface only of a duodecimo, and gravely entered his ap probation of two chapters which, unfortunately for his cratical acumen, had been omitted; while the prefatory reference to them. had been, by misrake, retained! This predicament was worse than that of the London editor, who riticised some passages of Cooke's acting, and found when he rose next morning, and his pa per was all over London, that the play had een postponed.

For the rest, time must develope our course and our capabilities; in cases where the usual courtesy of the trade is not extended to this ournal, unlike most of our cotemporaries, we shall buy what books we want, and give to such as deserve it's careful minual.
